The Revelation Coin Project

Prepare, Equip, Unite

A Cryptocurrency preparedness community

1. Introduction

The Revelation Coin Project is a grass roots crypto research, development and implementation project based on the expectation that in the future there will be a forced implementation of a cashless, one world currency implemented by the leader of a one world government.

1.2 Purpose

The development of this coin and the implementation and maintenance technologies and research are based upon the Biblical prophecy in the book known as The Book of Revelation which was penned by inspiration by John circa AD 94-96 during his exile on the island of Patmos.

Revelation 13:16-17 - "And he compels all both small and great, both the rich and the poor, both free and the slave to be marked with an inscription stamped on their right hand or on their foreheads, so that no one will have the power to buy or sell unless he or she bears the stamp that is the beast or the number of his name".

This is where the name Revelation Coin (or Rev Coin for short) is derived from.

Based on this prophecy, other prophecies and current events it is believed that it is a matter of time until currency/money as we know it (known as fiat) will be eliminated as a valid exchange for goods and services and a new one world currency controlled by one world government will eventually be implemented. This will be known as a complete "cashless society". It is our opinion that blockchain will very likely be the means by which this is accomplished. It is also our opinion that blockchain (prepared and properly developed) can also be used to solve the very same problem it will be a part of (see 1.3 and 1.4).

1.3 Objective

Our goal is to develop a means for those who wish to bypass this mandatory mark and one world currency system. We plan on doing this through blockchain and will continually develop and partner with individuals and technologies in order to be prepared for this event and have a system in place that can be used by those who wish to have another source to trade for goods and services (other than the centralized and completely cashless banking system soon to come).

We realize that technology is constantly changing so through volunteers and initially paid developers we will continually develop this project to achieve this goal and stay ahead of the technology curve while also introducing newer technologies and methods to provide an alternative coin when the need arises. Those who are holding Rev at that time will initially be in a way off better off position.

We will be continually implementing the latest online and offline techniques to enable us to equip the individual to trade and barter without one world government interference.

As our contributors and partner numbers grow as well as our funds we will be able to achieve optimal preparation for this event. We consider this project a “shared project” among those with the same concerns and encourage input and discussion primarily through Telegram (<http://t.me/revelationcoin>); a tool where individuals can share ideas.

1.4 Preservation of Project

The Revelation Coin Project will eventually become a completely community driven coin. Once the proper agenda is achieved the project will be run by a coalition. This will keep and preserve the integrity and intention of the project. While a business model will be necessary for the launch and growth of the project it is necessary in the future to move to a complete community model as then the death, resignation or change of philosophy or allegiances of individuals will have little to no impact.

Also, the project will not run on any individualized servers or run in any specific location or locations. It will be modeled in the likes of ARPANET (TCP/IP) in which it cannot be stopped by closing locations or shutting down servers. This is one of the greatest areas where blockchain will become the projects greatest asset.

Example:

In a transaction, computers from around the world are recording and verifying. In this example, if computer D is taken down the rest of the computers will still control, verify and record transactions.

If we were to make the scenario 100,000,000 computers recording and verifying transactions rather than merely 8 computers, we can then see exactly how REV coin transactions will be able to continue in spite of any efforts to stop it.

Keep in mind that this is a very basic and simple illustration. As technology advances, it becomes more complex to circumvent shut down attempts. This is where the Revelation Coin Project will set itself apart from all the other cryptocurrencies as REV's primary purpose serves to continually research and develop technologies to stay ahead of the one world currency agenda which will formulate technologies to shut down blockchain's decentralization ability and the ability to accommodate anonymous transactions as we know it.

2.0 The Revelation Project Coin (aka REV Coin) Technical

Specs-

Name: Revelation Coin Project Token

Symbol: REV

Standard: ERC20

Platform: Ethereum

Coin Supply: 20,000,000,000

Address: 0xe6Be436DF1Ff96956dfe0b2b77FAB84EDe30236F

Decimals: 18

2.1 Distribution

A total of 10 billion coins will be given away for free to anyone who wishes to receive them. The process will involve filling out a form with a proper Ethernet ERC20 compatible wallet address (see website or contact support for help) for the coins to be sent to. This process of giving out free coins is called "airdropping".

The amount to be airdropped (given out for free) will be in the amount of 500,000 REV coins for everyone while supply lasts. The team reserves the right to adjust this amount at any time. Team reserves the right to burn any coin not distributed in the airdrop.

The Revelation Project Team will not conduct an Initial Coin Offering, private sale or any other form of sale.

The remaining 10 billion will be reserved for team members, advisors, promotions, marketing, research, development, overhead and any other pertinent needs deemed necessary for the purpose of maintaining and advancing the project.

The team reserves the right to burn reserved coins if it is determined that it is for the better good and direction of the project.

2.2 Supply

There is a 20-billion-coin total supply. There will never be more than this supply. There could be a lower amount should the team decide it's in the best interest of the project. This could take place if not all coins are given away for free (known as airdropping) and/or if it is decided the held supply needs to be lowered for the good of the project. The process of lowering the total supply of coins is called burning (see 2.1).

3. Future Development

In order to stay ahead of the rapidly changing technology curve, The Revelation Coin Project is a constantly evolving project designed to ensure that the coin serves its purpose when the time comes.

As development and research continue to set forth however, we will still ensure that The REV coin can be used in the present time. Use of the coin now ensures that the coins will be properly distributed and that a complete infrastructure will be in place when REV coin is no longer optional but necessary for those who refuse to be part of a one world government/banking system. In short: Adoption now will make for a smoother transaction later.

4. Team Information

Currently, we have a small development team and a marketer. At this point, they wish to remain anonymous. Based on the sensitive and controversial nature of the project we will not publish anyone's identity who wish to remain anonymous. Also, we have some who work for other crypto organizations and it would be detrimental for them to be associated with other crypto organizations. As people join who wish to be published and known we will consider posting these individuals names.

Anyone who officially represents the team will conduct themselves in a professional and respectful manner.

5. Disclosures

The Revelation Coin project is an independent group of individuals with likeminded ideas. We are not a part of or affiliated with any nonprofit organization or religious organization.

The Revelation Coin is not an investment offer. It is not intended to be used as an investment and is not for speculative purposes.

As clearly stated in this whitepaper the purpose of REV coin is for trading between individuals.

This whitepaper is subject to change as the project moves forward, however, the clear goal of the Revelation Project will remain.

5. FAQs

Won't people merely use gold and silver if such a thing occurred? Gold and silver have been long in place as a bartering tool. Just as always though gold bars and any other bartering tools are impractical to carry around. Also, keep in mind that the government may outlaw and/or order a confiscation of these commodities (It has happened before. U.S. President Roosevelt outlawed gold in 1933). This is where REV coin will come in place as it can be carried both by small media offline and/or online means that cannot be confiscated.

Is this a Christian thing? While it is obvious that our name and hypothesis does come from a vision given to a follower of Christ and some of our team members are indeed Christian no one is excluded from participating in this project nor from owning, trading or bartering with Rev Coins. Many people who are not Christians believe that we are moving closer to a one world currency and cashless society system. This coin was designed for an event, not a dogma. Note: The prophecy states that ALL people will be required to carry a mark (subject to a tyrannical government monitoring and tracing every monetary transaction) not just proclaimed Christians so this event will affect everyone.

What if I don't believe it? That's fine, this project is not for you. Move on to another project. We are not here to change your mind, debate nor impose any belief up you. This project is strictly for those who have come to the conclusion by either Biblical prophecy, noticing world events, or any other means think there will one day be a tyrannical one world government imposing a one world currency upon the population.

What if I want to get involved? If you have pertinent skills and feel that you could contribute to the cause, contact us. This is a joint venture project and to ensure that this coin is never subject to the coming new world order it must be distributed and contributed by a wide group of individuals and groups. We encourage you to join our telegram group, a great place for sharing of ideas.

Aren't there enough decentralized systems out there to use if a one world centralized currency is implemented? We don't think so. Based on the wording of Biblical prophecy it appears that most will be done away with. It is arrogant to think that the current blockchain in place is and always will be perfectly immune to a one world centralized currency agenda. It's also relative to point out that no crypto projects are specifically preparing for such an event. Once the one world system is implemented it will be too late to prepare or at the most, they will be well behind the eight ball. We at the Revelation Coin Project plan to be well prepared ahead of time to take the necessary precautions in order to ensure that a system will be solidly in place specifically for this event. This gives us an advantage since all of our resources and research are dedicated specifically to this.

Do we have to wait until a one world currency system is in place to start using REV coin? Absolutely not. You can start sending/receiving REV Coin immediately. While developing strategies and technologies is the number one priority of the Revelation Coin Project we will also seek out partners (merchants) and payment processing systems that will provide a use for REV Coin before these world events occur. This will serve the purpose of A) provide immediate use among supporters and B) will begin circulation and by doing so the REV coin system of trading will long be in force long before any such events. By having a working and in place real use infrastructure of trade before a one world currency system exists it will have holders of REV Coin prepared and ready and allow system implementation and changes to be better suited when the time comes that use of REV Coin will no longer be optional but necessary.

Why a 20 billion supply?

One of the greatest problems of bitcoin today is less supply, which results in manipulation of bitcoin by a group of people called whales. we don't want to face such problems as bitcoin and we are working hard to limit the percentage to drop and to use the rest for ongoing development. Ultimately, we want to make sure that Rev Coin will get into enough hands at a reasonable price in order that all may be prepared and equipped to have a working trade system in place.

What's to ensure that Revelation Coin will not be done away with like the other cryptocurrencies in order to fulfill this prophecy? While we can't predict the future and there are no guarantees that it will not, we believe that by preparing for this event Rev Coin technology will have the best chance to be ready for it. Conversely, zero preparation leads to zero chance. While the Bible doesn't say there will be an alternative currency to the one world currency, it is silent on the matter as well. We believe it's a fair assumption to think that since there will be a group of people who do not conform that there will be an alternative cash method as well.

Why are you using Ethereum/ERC20?

We are using ERC20 now, but this is a starting point to get the project off the ground and known.

It is our opinion that many people are already familiar with ERC20 tokens and already have a wallet system in place to accommodate them (via MEW, Metamask, Mist, etc.), This will allow the REV token to be more easily and readily available to be received via airdrop.

Also, the Ethereum blockchain allows the provision that the REV Coin cannot be taken down as there are no specific servers and server locations that it is run on.

We do plan to leave the Ethereum blockchain (ledger) and find an even more suitable blockchain/technology in the near future (see timeline).
